5 Viral Hooks

1. Stop scrolling if you're currently staring at your hair in the mirror and hating it.
2. I finally found the one salon that actually listens to what I want.

2. I finally found the one salon that actually listens to what I want.
3. This is your sign to finally get that haircut you've been pinning on Pinterest for months.
4. POV: You just left the salon and you feel like a completely different person.
5. I was terrified of getting a chop, but look at the results.

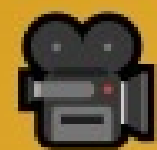

UGC Script 1

Hook: Stop scrolling if you're currently staring at your hair in the mirror and hating it.

Problem: We've all been there. Your ends are fried, your layers are uneven, and you just feel like your hair has lost its life. You want a change, but you're scared of going somewhere and ending up with a cut that doesn't suit your face shape.

Solution: That's exactly why I booked an appointment at Glow Salon. I told them exactly what I was worried about, and they actually took the time to consult with me before even touching the scissors. The result? A fresh, bouncy cut that makes my hair look so much healthier.

CTA: Stop settling for a bad hair day and book your spot at Glow Salon.

UGC Script 2

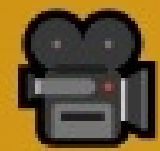

Hook: I finally found the one salon that actually listens to what I want.

Problem: There is nothing worse than asking for a trim and leaving the salon with four inches gone, or asking for layers and getting something that looks like a mushroom. It's honestly so stressful trying to find a stylist you can actually trust.

Solution: I finally tried Glow Salon and it was a total game changer. The vibe is so welcoming, and they really nailed the exact look I was going for. I didn't have to repeat myself three times—they just got it.

CTA: Trust me, your hair deserves this. Click the link in their bio to book.

UGC Script 3

Hook: POV: You just left the salon and you feel like a completely different person.

Problem: You know that feeling when you're just over your look? Like you're bored with your hair and it's starting to drag down your whole mood? I was feeling soblah and just needed a confidence boost.

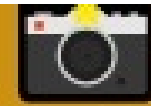

Solution: I headed over to Glow Salon for a complete refresh. The experience was so relaxing, and the transformation is insane. I walked out feeling like a new woman and I haven't stopped taking selfies since.

CTA: Treat yourself to a glow-up. Head to Glow Salon's profile to see their availability.

5 Video Recording Tips

1. Use natural lighting by filming facing a window to make the hair shine and color pop.
2. Record a "before" clip with messy, unstyled hair to create a stronger contrast with the "after."
3. Use a slow-motion "hair flip" or "head turn" to showcase the movement and layers of the cut.
4. Keep the talking parts fast-paced with jump cuts to maintain high energy for the Instagram Reels algorithm.
5. Record a few b-roll clips of the salon interior and the stylist working to build trust and show the atmosphere.
